NUTRITION TIP FROM THE KSC FITNESS CENTER: The Disappointing Truth about Nutrition "Facts." Following are five other bits of common nutrition "knowledge" that turn out, unfortunately, to be incorrect.

- The low-fat version is always a nutritional bargain. Sometimes the nutrient gains you make while sacrificing taste are negligible. Example, a reduced-fat blueberry muffin from Dunkin' Donuts has 450 calories—just 40 fewer than its full-fat counterpart. And it has 8 grams of saturated fat—2 grams more than the regular version.
- The vegetarian dish is always the more healthful option. When a number of Indian dishes were sent to a laboratory a few years ago to be analyzed for calories and fat, we found that the vegetarian entrees were loaded with much more of both than the meat entrees. For instance, a vegetable casserole made with lots of cheese and cream could very well end up having more calories and fat—and saturated fat—than an entree of steak, chicken, or fish.
- If it contains yogurt, it's good for you. Plain old yogurt to which you add some chopped fruit or berries is indeed good for you. On the other hand, yogurt-coated raisins, pretzels, and the like are pretty much just raisins and pretzels with extra calories and saturated fat—and with only a negligible amount of the calcium, protein, and other nutrients generally associated with yogurt.
- Energy bars/Weight-loss bars are better bets than candy bars. Most energy bars have in the neighborhood of 200 calories, on an ounce-for-ounce basis, as candy bars. They just look less fattening because they're smaller. While energy bars often pose as "health" foods, many pack a lot of sugar—and thus, a lot of "energy" that you may not be bargaining for.
- Baked potato chips and vegetable chips are much better for you than regular potato chips. An ounce of regular potato chips contains about 150 calories. An ounce of baked potato chips contains about 120.

OIG: The Office of the Inspector General is the focal point within NASA for conducting audits and investigations to promote economy and efficiency and to prevent and detect fraud and abuse in NASA programs and operations. The OIG receives and investigates complaints or information about inefficiencies, mismanagement, or gross waste of funds; possible violations of law, rules, or regulations by NASA employees, contractors, or others; or substantial and specific danger to the public health and safety. The Inspector General will not disclose the identity of a person who provides such information without that person's permission, unless the Inspector General determines that disclosure is unavoidable during the course of investigation. NASA employees are protected by law from reprisal for making complaints or disclosing information to the Inspector General. At Kennedy Space Center, call: 867-4714, or call toll free: 1-800-424-9183, 24-hour answering service, or write: NASA Inspector General, P.O. Box 23089, L'Enfant Plaza Station, Washington, DC 20024. (OIG)

OCCUPATIONAL MEDICINE PATIENT SERVICES PROGRAMS: All employees are reminded that nonoccupational-related information obtained from medical treatments, physical examinations, Health Education Program screenings, and mental, emotional, and substance abuse counseling through the Employee Assistance Program is PRIVATE, STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL, AND SUBJECT TO THE PRIVACY ACT. (TA-C2)

DISCRIMINATION COMPLAINTS: Whenever a KSC employee or applicant for employment believes they have been discriminated against based on race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, or handicap, the employee must contact an EEO Counselor within 45 calendar days of the incident giving rise to the complaint. An informative Equal Employment Opportunity Program poster with counselors' identities and further complaint information is on all KSC Official Bulletin Boards. EEO Counselors are trained to inform you of your rights, answer your questions, and can do limited fact finding into your allegations. Counseling is a confidential process, and only the employee can authorize a counselor to discuss his or her issues with another party. For further information, contact the KSC EO Office at 867-9165. (AJ)

PRIVACY ACT NOTICE: Users are reminded that the Privacy Act requires any records that contain a Social Security Number or private information such as salary and medical records, must be kept in locked file drawers when unattended. It also requires that a NASA form 1534 be placed on top of all records subject to the Act. When transferring such records a SF-135, Records Transmittal and Receipt Form, must be used. If mailed through the KSC Interoffice Mail System, KSC Form 13-242, A, B, or C, "Open by Addressee Only," must be used. (TA-E1)

By consulting with JBOSC Graphics first, you will eliminate wasted time and effort to rework your project. Graphics will ensure your artwork is produced efficiently and is suitable for reproduction. Graphics has electronic transfer capability, a proven method for first quality prints directly from the original, compared to low density reproductions from copied artwork.
